

A diagram showing a corner joint where a vertical member and a horizontal member meet. A downward force of  $10a$  is applied to the vertical member. The horizontal member is shown with dashed lines, indicating its internal structure or a secondary view.

